Operation Loris committal

Update in relation to committal - Application by witness F to be excused from subpoena heard over two days; F represented by Mr. John Dixon SC Monday and Tuesday. Three doctors were called at the insistence of the magistrate would not accept written material only.

At the conclusion of the evidence, Magistrate would not set aside subpoena but adjourned her evidence until 17 June 2010 to allow her to recover from surgery undergone on 11 March and other ailments.

Magistrate refused application for costs by F. He also directed that she provide ongoing medical reports to the court in relation to her recovery and ability to give evidence.

Information via ^{Sandy White-O} is that she is mouthing off that she has had a win and wont be giving evidence. She has also tried to get in touch with Ron Iddles this morning.

Application by OPP in relation to refusal by magistrate to grant suppression [REDACTED] to be heard in [REDACTED]. Both Press lawyers and defence granted leave to appear. May not get result that day, Justice Beach can only rule that the magistrate inappropriately applied the law in relation to the Witness Protection Act and refer it back to the Magistrate for further ruling.

Committal will sit tomorrow to conclude subpoena issues arguments and will then adjourn until 12 April to allow for the suppression order arguments to be dealt with before any witnesses are called.

It is expected that committal will be adjourned part heard from April until June to allow F to be called and give evidence.

Steve Smith
