Dear Josie,

Sorry if this creates any dramas for Liz or yourself but as my Court proceedings have been (confidentially) adjourned until mid-September my lawyers have advised me to wait until then before providing any materials. As you know I have to be guided by John Dixon QC's advice.

I'm scheduled for my next surgery (which I hope will be my last!) on 9 September for my cancerous cells and unfortunately have another little hole which will require surgical intervention. I am only going to be in hospital for 2 days so I anticipate being in a position to proceed further after my operation and the next Directions Hearing.

I seem to never have a day free between seeing 9 doctors and dealing with requests for material & instructions from my lawyers!

I am also waiting on some further material to add to the document I showed you over coffee which I am then allowed to provide to you. Bit of a delicate situation as you'd appreciate!

I hope you've had a few days off to relax and I will keep you up to date as to where I'm at (but at present it's focusing on boosting my immune system for my operation or as Cath calls it, my snatcharectomy!)

Will speak to you soon,

Nic. x

Importance: High

Morning Josie,

Sorry but today is a mess. Going to Royal Melb this afternoon for tests and then oncologist at 4pm to discuss pathology results (which I am very stressed about) then straight to a conference with John Dixon SC. There is now a suggestion that the mediation may have to be adjourned (by the Defendants' QC who isn't sure he'll have instructions by Wednesday! They have said they'll pay all the costs if its adjourned so I will hopefully know this afternoon whether Wed is actually proceeding or not (as that will affect Liz/filming etc)

As for that document, I am still waiting on confirmation about what I am able to do but am hoping to get an answer today.

The only other thing I can tell you which may be of interest is that the Assistant Commissioner who has been allocated my claim (to attend the mediation) is someone called Jeff POPE. I don't know him, haven't met him and anything you hear or have heard would be welcomed by Cath & I.

Will touch base later on,

Thanks again for your support

x
